Cinderella

Cinderella lived with her stepmother and stepsisters. They made her do all the housework. One day there was a ball at the castle.

"Can I go to the ball?" asked Cinderella.

"No," said the first stepsister. "You don't have a dress."

"No," said the second stepsister. "You don't have any shoes."

A fairy godmother came to Cinderella's house. She made her a beautiful dress. She made her some beautiful shoes. Cinderella put on her dress and she put on her shoes.

"Now I can go to the ball," she said. The prince danced with Cinderella. After the ball, the prince found Cinderella's shoe.

"I will marry the girl who can put on this shoe," he said. He looked all over the kingdom. One day he came to Cinderella's house.

"Is this your shoe?" he asked.

"Yes." said the first stepsister, but the shoe did not fit.

"Yes." said the second stepsister, but the shoe did not fit.

"Is this your shoe?" asked the prince.

"Yes." said Cinderella, and she put on the shoe.

"Will you marry me?" asked the prince.

"Yes." said Cinderella. So, she did!
